Warner Hall Overview

There's a reason George Washington's great-great-grandfather chose Warner Hall as the site for his Gloucester, Virginia river front homestead in 1642. Located along the banks of the Severn River with a quarter mile of shoreline, this 38-acre gem is one of the most historic and breathtakingly beautiful estates in the country. The property consists of a meticulously restored 16,210 sf Colonial Revival Manor House (circa 1670 - 1900), a charming 800 sf River Cottage with boat ramp and lift, a centuries old brick barn, and a 3,800 sf Carriage House; collectively 16 bedrooms, 16 full baths, and a commercial kitchen.

Three and half centuries of history and architectural significance define this exceptional property. Exquisite moldings, 10' ceilings, 14 fireplaces, heart pine floors, hand tiled bathrooms and unique fixtures are just a few of the details. A grand central staircase divides as it rises to the foyer above and sets the stage for the entrance to the elegant Manor House. Covered porches, terraces, patios and gardens set the backdrop for unsurpassed experiences.

Since opening in 2000, the Inn at Warner Hall has hosted hundreds of 5-star special events ranging from elegant wedding receptions and corporate events to intimate gatherings. It has been recognized as a top-rated, luxury full-service Inn with operational restaurant. Spacious entertainment and dining areas, commercial kitchen and the beautiful bluestone and brick patio and terrace provide an endless range of possibilities.

Warner Hall's location, approximately 21 miles from Newport News-Williamsburg International Airport (PHF); 50 miles from Norfolk International Airport; 60 miles from Richmond International Airport; approximately 3 hours from Washington D.C.; and 30 minutes from the heart of Colonial Williamsburg and the College of William & Mary, makes the property uniquely situated for success as a boutique hotel, special event venue, corporate retreat, full-service inn or an extraordinary estate home.
