

What are the building blocks of GREAT HEALTH & VITALITY?

THE ANSWER IS SIMPLE.

Water, carbohydrates, proteins, fats, vitamins, and minerals are necessary to sustain life, but the human body is incapable of making these essential nutrients to support proper growth and development. Understanding how your body utilises both macronutrients and micronutrients underlies the importance of a good diet and proper supplementation.

Simply put, CARBOHYDRATES AND FATS help generate energy so your body can perform both mentally and physically, while protein enables your body to build and maintain healthy bones, muscles, and organs. All are plentiful in our diets, but when we choose poor sources we may fail to obtain the recommended amounts of macronutrients.

MICRONUTRIENTS are more commonly known as vitamins and minerals, and your body cannot thrive, or even survive without them. Minerals help build strong bones and teeth. They are essential components of enzymes and enzyme systems. Vitamins are essential for normal metabolism and healthy growth and development. They support immunity, regulate metabolism, and aid digestion.

DIET AND NUTRITION are important factors in the maintenance of good health throughout life, yet scientific studies continue to link a nutrient-poor diet and lack of physical activity as major contributors in the development of chronic disease. As healthy dietary choices continue to decline, degenerative disease risk increases in society.

IT'S BECOMING INCREASINGLY CLEAR

that adding high-quality vitamin and mineral supplements to your diet is a costeffective way to support your health and vitality, and maintain your youthful appearance.
